What do Oligosaccharide Inulin and Lecithin Liposomes do?

Let's dive into a little bit of the science behind our ingredients. The combination of inulin and lecithin in MYND360 Energizing Hand and Body Wash acts as a humectant that holds water or hydration to the skin. Inulin, a source of an oligosaccharide, is a sugar that can bind water, while lecithin is used as a liposome to encapsulate it, aiding in absorption. This unique combination has been scientifically proven to increase skin hydration, ensuring your skin stays moisturized and healthy.
